

■ Embedded News, Delivered Free to Your In-Box
Microprocessor Report now has a free sister publication, Embedded Processor Watch. This weekly newsletter comes via e-mail and includes technical and business news and analysis relating to microprocessors for embedded applications.

Subscriptions are free; sign-ups are handled automatically by sending e-mail to join-embedded@list.MDRonline.com.

■ Bop On Over to Benchmark Newsletter

Benchmark Insider is a monthly print newsletter from ZDBop, the Ziff-Davis Benchmark Operation. Coverage includes results and observations from WinBench, 3D WinBench, WinMark, and other PC, Web, 3D, and desktop benchmarks. Subscribers also have access to the Benchmark Insider Web site (which is temporarily free) at www.benchmarkinsider.com.

Annual subscriptions (12 issues) run $295 for the printed newsletter and Web access. For more information, point your browser to www.benchmarkinsider.com.

■ Embedded RTOS Sales to Hit $868M by 2002

Such is the claim of Venture Development, publishers of a study with the descriptive title of World Market for Embedded Software Development Tools and Real-Time Operating Systems. The study projects 18% compound annual growth in RTOS sales, starting from about $450 million this year.

Copies of the $4,495 report are available from VDC (Natick, Mass.) by calling 508.653.9000 or by stopping at the VDC Web site at www.vdc-corp.com.

■ Elektronische Geräte am die Messe

The biennial CeBIT Home Electronics 98 has split from the larger CeBIT conference and returns to Hannover, Germany August 26–30. The show focuses on multimedia PCs, online services, telecommunications hardware, computer entertainment, and consumer electronics. A U.S. pavilion will accommodate 25 American exhibitors.

For exhibitor information, you can contact Hannover Fairs (Princeton, NJ) at 609.987.1202 or e-mail cebithome@hfusa.com.

■ Hard to Pronounce But Interesting for DSPs

The ninth annual International Conference on Signal Processing Applications and Technology (ICSPAT) & DSP World Expo comes to the Toronto (Ontario) Metro Convention Center September 13–16. As before, the conference will include workshops, lectures, practical training, and the results of scientific research. A conference agenda can be found on the Web at www.dspworld.com/icspat.htm.

Registration costs run from free (for the exhibits only) to $1,295 for a full conference package. For more information, or to register, visit www.dspworld.com or call 817.255.8070.

Embedded Processor Forum

The Conference for Embedded Computing Technology

October 15–16 • Fairmont Hotel • San Jose, Calif

If you are serious about embedded microprocessor technology, join us this fall for the first Embedded Processor Forum. You'll get first disclosures of some of the most important new chips from ARM, Motorola, Hitachi, Siemens, NEC, and more in a full day dedicated to embedded chips. You can also attend all-day seminars on DSP technology and on selecting the right embedded chip. For an overall view of the microprocessor industry, also attend Microprocessor Forum October 12–14. Special early registration discounts expires August 3rd.
